Death Valley Jim Scott led the White ox to a brilliant victory over Frank seventh reservists at the Polo

Grounds yesterday afternoon. The score was 2 to 1. That is just what it should have been from the scientific analysis, but not from the opportunities presented. Scott was lucky indeed to get away with a verdict over the earnest Ray Fisher,

The Vermont schoolmaster outpitched his opponent, or at least presented less scor-The striking difference as the fact that Scott had behind him cast that was not afraid to take a once in a while. The loss of the game might be laid at several doors. First of all the inert offensive weakness of the Chancemen in the pinches prevented an easily turned triumph. Because of his wildness Jim Scott was in hot water almost every inning. By some hypnotic power he fooled the home batters into going after every-thing he offered regardless of circumstances. Scott gave nine bases on balls. He allowed six hits. Twelve stranded base runners furnished the answer to

has been with his club long enough to know that thinking is absolutely foreign to the makeup of many of his athletes and that it is essential to have competent coaching. Of course the Peerless Leader cannot be at two corners of the diamond at once, but he has one or two helpers who usually show common sense at the job. Marty McHale is not one of them. As a coacher the Irish Thrush is a cele-brated tenor. Marty at third base yesterday prevented a sure tie and a possible victory in the ninth inning. He held Boone at third, with two out, on Hartzell's scratch double that might easily have scored Lute from first, even if the ball

Little Boone, who is an excellent second baseman and a credit to the team, dropped an "o" from his name on a couple of occasions too. He should have scored in that ninth in spite of McHale's bad judgment. The throwin pulled Schalk half way to third, where he muffed the ball and had to pursue it almost to the bag on which Lute was standing. The home plate meanwhile was un-guarded, but Boone had his head down guarded, but boone had his head down and didn't see the opportunity till it had taken flight. This oversight only helped to make a bad day for Lute, as Fournier stole the winning run off the youngster in the sixth inning.

Luther Cook also deserves censure, for the threat the same away in the sixth.

he threw the game away in the sixth inning by refusing to try to score from first on Cree's long double off the left field wall. The ball bounded seventy-five feet behind Demmitt. Nunamaker whiffed after Scott passed Mullen and Peckinpaugh with two out in the fourth. Maisel drew a walk to start the fifth, but the next three couldn't work him round. Cook beat a hit to Blackburne in the sixth. He stuck to third on Cree's fine double. The pair then watched Mullen pop out, Peckinpaugh strike out and Nunamaker ground out to Blackburne. There were also two out in the ninth when the home team started a rally that should have produced a tie at least. Sweeney, hitting for Cole, drew a pass. He selected a wild pitch on which to steal. Boone also walked. Hartzell's jolt took a false bounce over Fournier's head and rolled clear to the stand near foul territory. Sweeney tallied easily, but territory. Sweeney tallied easily, but Boone, on the word of McHale, refused to follow suit. Scott, now thoroughly up in the air, passed Cook and filled the bases. Cree might have retrieved the day. Washington, Aug. 24.—The Tigers won both games of a double header with Washington here this afternoon, 3 to 1 and 11 to 0. Demmitt scratched a single in behind second, which Boone headed too late for a play. Fournier kept right on for the plate. Lute could have caught him before he got half way there, but evidently the young infielder considered the dash a bluff for he threw to Maisel instead. To-day's Schedule New York in St. Louis (two games). Boston in Chicago. Brooklyn in Cincinnati. Philadelphia in Pittsburg.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 24.- "The begins for us to-day," said Capt. Larry Doyle this morning as the Giants detrained in the rain and made for their taxicabs. "We are starting even with the Bostons for first place and right here we start out to win the pennant. That's what we are going to do too."

Capt. Larry admitted that his team would have to play better than they have been doing to win the pennant, same being a self-evident fact. Manager Mc-Graw considers his most dangerous rival for the flag to be here in this town. He thinks the Cardinals are more formid-and means a double header to-morrow. and means a double header to-morrow. Probably Mathewson and Marquard will take the platform against Doak and Salles. Matty has been pitching good ball during his losing streak, but Marquard has pitched only one real good game since his twenty-one inning victory. The shake-up introduced in Cincinnati has not pro-duced anything but losing results so far, but that was as much as the team was doing before, and two games are not a test of the change, particularly as Fletcher in his new place, fourth, has not made a hit yet and Burns did no clouting in Cincinnati. Young Holke from Spokane is exceedingly active at first base in practice. Although a strapping big fellow he gets around fast and is a left handed thrower. But McGraw never was one to experiment with youngsters when there's a pennant at stake, besides Snodgrass is going well at first base. Oliver Kirmayer, a pitcher bought by New York from the Decatur club of the Three I League, will report in Chicago this week. Other youngsters to report later are Jim Smith, the catcher from Savannah, who, unlike most catchers, is a fast runner; Brainard, the Texas League second baseman, and Erick-son, a pitcher from Dallas.

All these newcomers will get their chance in due season, which means next spring unless they get a chance this fall, which doesn't seem likely with the penwhich doesn't seem likely with the pen-nant scrap so close.

Karl Hodge, the Williams College pitcher, who has been carried by the Giants since they were here last time, has been released. Hodge lives in St. Louis and about all he did as a Giant was to make a trip East and back.

St. Louis is on the qui vive this week

St. Louis is on the qui vive this week because first come the Giants, then the Bostons, and the Cardinals have a chance to capture first place by taking a majority of games from those two rivals. They are close up and the city has visions of a world's series in its corporate metes and bounds. The present week finds a most interesting and unusual situation. Here is the last week in August, and in the next six days four teams each with a pretty good chance for the pennant will clash with one another. The Glants play in St. Louis and Chicago, and the Braves in Chicago and St. Louis. An important week and one which will have a big bearing on the eventuality of the season's

Dick Kinsella, the Giant scout, was here to-day. It was he who dug up Pitcher to-day. It was he who dug up Pitcher Kirmayer. He says the latter is a right hander and a spitball expert, who has won 27 games and lost 6 in Three I circles. cles. Manager McGraw has signed Jim Thorpe for the next two years after this one. ### CHICAGO JOLTS BRAVES BACK IN SECOND PLACE in Eighth and Cubs Win by 9 to 5 Score.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24 .- The Cubs battered Rudolph for four runs and five hite in the eighth inning to-day and won the first game of the important Chicago-Boston series. The score was 9 to 5 and it was a nip and tuck game, with little real baseball and much fighting until Rudolph exploded. As a result of the defeat the Braves fall back to second place.

It was necessary to use five ptichers in Tyler started for the Boston lads and was opposed by Lavender. Boston southpaw lasted only two rounds, and the Cubs got to him for four runs in that short space. Rudolph then went to the slab and allowed just one run and two hits until the fatal eighth, when Saier, Schulte, Sweeney and Corriden sin-Ried and Archer doubled.

Lavender was in the trouble at the very start, as Connolly drove the ball over the right field fence for a homer in the first bining. The spitball pitcher stuck until the fifth, when four safe hits sent him the fifth, when four safe hits sent him to the clubhouse. Vaughn took up the burden, but both he and Bresnahan were chased for disputing the decisions of Umpire Quigley, and Cheney came on during the seventh and finished the game.

The hitting was free throughout, the Chas gating ten and the Brayes sight

Cubs getting ten and the Braves eight safe ones. Connolly, with a homer and a sufe ones. Connolly, with a homer and a double, led for the Boston lads. Moran, purchased from the Reds, played his first game and drove out two singles and drew Bisons and Grays in Fight.

BUFFALO, Aug. 24.—Back lot pugilism marred to-day's double header between the Bisons and Providence Grays, the locals winning both games and the fight. The scores were 4 to 1 and 5 to 1. As a result of the fight, which occurred during the seventh inning of the scored grayers. the seventh inning of the second game, three Buffalo players, Roach, McCarthy and Lalonge, were put off the field, while the Grays lost the services of Cooper and Kocher. Cooper shouldered Roach when the latter crossed the plate with a run, and as the Bison captain started for the Providence pitcher a general melee en-sued. Lalonge, who was not in the game, came off the bench to join the fight. Police stopped a near riot and the fighting players were put off the ground. The Over Arvia-Fourteen in Women's Regatta.

The race week of the Atlantic Yacht Club began yesterday with a regatta for yachts with women skippers. The contests began a day earlier than usual, the women's race being arranged as a novelty There were fourteen starters.

A fresh wind from the west-northwest was blowing when the races should have started and the bay was dotted with white caps. Yachtsmen would have been delighted with the conditions, but the regatta committee—Carlos de Zafra and Totals...31 6 11 27 6 2 regatta committee—Carlos de Zafra and S. L. Finley—decided that the conditions were a little too severe for the women skippers and a postponement was signalled. There was not much change an hour later. A lively sea was rolling in past Norton's Point and the course selected kept the yachts in Gravesend Bay, taking them to Bensonhurt Fort Houl! taking them to Bensonhurst, Fort Hamil ton and home. This gave a reach to Bensonhurst, a beat to the next mark and a run with spinnakers home.

Two yachts started in the Q class. Mrs. F. P. Currier sailed the Virginia and Mrs. Eldridge sailed the Arvia. The Virginia and Mrs. Eldridge sailed the Arvia. TORONTO MAKES TWENTY RUNS. ginia started five minutes too soon and was half way on the first leg before the mistake was noticed. She returned. the meantime the Arvia started on the proper signal, but Mrs. Eldridge, who could have gained a big advantage at the start, turned back and waited for the Virginia in order to make a race. In the end the Virginia won by I minute and the winner was the Chico, sailed by Mrs. Fred Fradleigh. There were eight starters in the star class, and the race was won by the Little Dipper, sailed by-Mrs. George A. NOTES OF THE DIAMOND. The Giants are only two and one-half games ahead of fourth place, but still lead the field by half a game.

To-day's double header in St. Louis is of vital importance. An even split would drop the argument right where it is for the time being, but a double reverse for either side might be fatal.

One of the first division clubs of the National League is likely to crack under the Strain. McGraw has the satisfaction of knowing it will not be the Giants. They cracked long ago.

Boston supporters may take comfort from the fact that Dick Rudolph lost yesterday's game to the Cubs. He was overdue for a trimming. He hadn't been stopped since the first week in July.

One has to admit that Stallings's team dies game every time it meets a reverse. It took the combined efforts of Lavender, Vaughn and Cheney to turn the trick yesterday.

It looks as if O'Day exhausted most of his terday.
